Art Unit: 1723

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

This application contains the following patently distinct species:

Species 1 corresponding to the filter medium composed principally of PVDF which has been modified to make the medium water wettable as recited in claim 4;

Species 2 corresponding to the filter medium composed principally of polysulphone which has been modified to make the medium water wettable as recited in claim 5;

Species 3 corresponding to the filter medium composed principally of FLUORODYNE as recited in claim 6;

Species 4 corresponding to the filter medium composed principally of SUPOR as recited in claim 6;

Species 5 corresponding to the filter medium composed of nylon as recited in claim 7.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-3, 13-42, 66, and 67.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the filter medium of each species is formed from a composition that is different from and mutually exclusive of the other species.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
